

Introduction

SAAW Health and Safety Consultants was founded by James Webber, who as a consultant has over 25 years' experience in occupational health and safety.

All of our consultants, advisors and technicians are members of the IIRSM and have gained considerable experience in their relevant fields of occupational health and safety.

We not only offer an off the shelf health and safety service but will also tailor a safety management system to suit the needs of the client.

All of our trainers are Members of the Chartered Institute of Environmental Health and hold the professional training certificate and have been training occupational health and safety for a minimum of ten years.

We are able to offer training that will ensure compliance under health and safety legislation from company inductions through to Asbestos awareness training.

We also offer training courses developed by the Chartered Institute of Environmental Health from level two through to the prestigious level four in subjects relating to occupational health and safety.

We offer five levels of a safety management system ranging from a start up / support package (Email and Phone Support) through to our Platinum package that includes an environmental management system.

365FIRE

365FIRE – Yearly extinguisher service

365PAT

365PAT

As part of the management of Health and Safety Regulations, Electricity at Work Regulations and PUWER as an employer you have to demonstrate that your portable electrical appliances are safe and maintained

365SAFETY - CDM Consultant package

Whether its a new build or refurbishment it is not often known what is involved and no two schemes are ever the same, but what we do know is our CDM C Services fees are amongst the most competitive in the industry and they are based on a "project by project" basis taking into account the following factors;

- The project location & complexity of the works
- Estimated duration of the proposed scheme
- Estimated construction value
- The Number of competence & resource assessments.
